

Misty morning, 1991

Misty morning,
A glimpse of sunlight in your eyes
And with no warning,
You came on to me with delight

It's alright,
Our love will see the light
And maybe we will see it through the night

My love is morning,
My love is sunshine through the night
Just like the dawn is,
Shining though for me at last

And the past
Is fading here at last
And all that we can share is growing fast.

You'll be the love that shines
On every single day
You'll be the love that shines for me
You'll be the love that shines
On every single day of my life
You'll be the love that shines for me.

Those silent mornings
A sound of love lies in the air
Just like the dawn is
And it's just for us to share

That we bear
The sound that will declare
That misty mornings flows into our wains

You'll be the love... ect.

Growing sunlight,
A touch light flows through the night
Filling up my mind,
And every moment that we find, lies behind
This time we're feeling fine,
If summer feelings holds its glowing shine

You'll be the love that shines... ect.
