

One step away, 2019

It's one step away.
The moment will come to stay
And all I have to do is pray
For the times to come.

Never knew I could fight
And I/ often wondered how
In this moment to stand up right,
Or is it/ just another bough.

But this is all that I wanted
And now that I feel grounded;
I think I have to try once more
Even though you're wondering why;
I don't wanna see you cry
Cause this is not a goodbye.

I never knew it could be wrong
To be waiting for your song.
Always waiting to be strong.
Maybe that's where I belong.

Just the other night
The stars were shining bright
I could feel your beating heart
I knew it was about to start

I looked into your eyes
It was a big surprise
I saw the shining moonrise
(I thought) It must come with a price

My heart is all that I can give you
So this is what I can see too
I don't think that I have a clue
And I know you're wondering why
I don't wanna see you cry
Cause this is not a goodbye

I never knew it could be wrong
To be waiting for your song
Always waiting to be strong,
Maybe that's where I belong.
