

The pale moonlight, 1989

Somewhere out in the distance
I see the pale moonlight
Makes me wonder where's the difference
Between wrong and right
But hey now don't you understand
It doesn't matter what you think today
Or tomorrow, just the same
Cause they'll make you change your mind
To believe whatever's necessary
For God sake what they'll make you see.
Don't ask me why, don't ask me why.

I see the pale moon light
Shining on you tonight
I see what's wrong or right
Baby just tonight
But I don't feel anything at all
I don't feel anything at all

Sometimes we make can make a difference
And turn the world around
Take a chance and give assistance
And make a little sound
But now and then I think all right
Who am I to tell what's right or wrong
Does it matter after all?
Cause in hundred years or more
Someone else will feel the same things as I did today
Don't ask me why, please don't ask me why

I see the pale moon light... e.c.t.

I see it's in your eyes
And I feel it's in your strength
But what I really can't see trough
Is why we lived so long___ without just one song?
It could have been the one thing that Could have turned the world around again
I can feel it's in my veins
And now and then I think all right
We can really change this time.
